DR. OGDEN RETURNING TO BLAIRMORE

Word has been received by Rev. A. E. Larke that Dr. J. Williams Ogdén, of Vancouver, one of the greatest pulp orators in the Dominion, who spent a week here a year ago, when he was greeted by capacity houses, will again visit Blaimore. He will occupy the pulpit of the United church here on Sunday, April the alone

28th, and each night of the week till Saturday.

ASSESSED OWNERS OF PROPERTY ARE PROPRIETARY VOTERS

To satisfy the minds of many inquirers, we have ascertained that "proprietary voters" are actual registered or assessed owners of property within the town, and that they only are entitled to vote Monday next. Wives or members of families have no vote.

"TOM" ROCHE MEETS A TRAGIC DEATH

Thomas D. Roche, aged about sixty-five, well known old-timer, trapper, prospector, etc., and resident of this section of Canada for upwards of thirty years, was instantly killed when struck by a west-bound freight train at a point just west of the cave at Crows' Nest Lake on Thursday afternoon last at 4.40.

He had been walking the track and stepped off on hearing the train approaching. He had not got far enough away, however, and was hit. He was quite deaf, and it is thought could not hear the train till it was practically upon him rounding a curve, and he was struck before the train could be brought to a stop.

An inquest was held at Coleman on Saturday, with Coroner A. M. Morrison presiding. A verdict of accidental death was returned by the jury.

The remains were brought to Blaimore, and, following service at St. Anne's church, were laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery here on Wednesday forenoon, Rev. Father Harrington officiating.

Mr. Sen Ennis made the funeral arrangements, and Danny Walker, Joe Seymour, O. M. Olson and Robt. Mills were pall bearers, all old acquaintances of deceased. Wreaths: The Mine Workers' Union of Canada and "Old Friends of late T. Roche." The only known relative discovered by police investigation is a sister, Mrs. O'Brien, of Coeur D'Alene, Idaho, whom, it is reported, has a son in law practice there.

The old-time friends of the deceased in Blaimore, Coleman and Crows' Nest, desire to thank all who assisted in any way in connection with the inquest and funeral.

CIVIC HOLIDAY FOR BUCK

At a meeting of the Blaimore town council on Monday night, a resolution was passed declaring Thursday, March 21st, a civic holiday, in honor of Tim Buck, who recently was released from penitentiary and who is visiting Blaimore today.

This edict of the mayor's covers the school as well, and the pupils are again being treated to a Red holiday.

CONCERTS DO HONOR TO ST. PATRICK

The eighth Annual St. Patrick's concert, staged in the Columbus hall on Monday and Tuesday evenings by members of St. Anne's parish, was as usual well attended. A splendid programme of song and dance numbers, coupled with a three-act play, entitled "The Mill of the Gods," in which latter the following characters appeared, were all well produced. Characters—Selina, a servant, Miss K. Kulk, Phillip Jefferson, a banker, J. V. McDougall, Lawrence Stanton, Jefferson's nephew, G. Pire; Golda Kane, companion and secretary, Mrs. J. Mison; Terry, a tramp, L. Schlosser; Kenneth Hamsey, son of Jefferson's friend, J. Dobek; Patty Jefferson, Miss D. Sartoris; Mrs. Mary Jefferson; Miss Laura Coccini. A song, "Danny Boy," was nicely rendered by a class of fifteen girls, while a march drill, "There's Something About a Soldier," by fourteen young girls under direction of Veronica Kulk, brought down the house. "God Save Ireland" and "God Save the King," brought each evening's programme to a close.

Dame Hamor has it that a movement is on foot to have artificial ice at Coleman next season.

PROPOSED BY-LAW

PROVINCE OF ALBERTA, TOWN OF BLAIRMORE

THE MAYOR AND COUNCIL of the Town of Blaimore enact as follows:—

1. This By-Law shall be known as the By-Law respecting allowances to Mayor and Councilors.

2. From and after the coming into force and effect of this By-Law, pursuant to the provisions of the Town and Village Act, Statutes of Alberta, 1934, Chapter 49, Section 65, an allowance of $2.00 shall be paid out of the general funds of the Town to the Mayor and each of the Councilors thereof for each regular or special meeting of the Council actually attended by them.

3. Pursuant to the provisions of the said Act as aforesaid, an allowance of $3.00 shall be paid out of the general funds of the Town to the Mayor for each day actually spent by him in the laying out and inspection of works undertaken by the Town.

Enacted pursuant to the provisions of The Town and Village Act, Statutes of Alberta, 1934, Chapter 49, Section 65, this _____ day of _____, 1935.

NOTICE TO PROPRIETARY ELECTORS OF THE TOWN OF BLAIRMORE

The above is a true copy of a proposed By-Law which will be taken into consideration by the Council of the Town of Blaimore after being voted on by the proprietary electors of the Town of Blaimore, pursuant to Section 65, Subsection 2, of The Town and Village Act, being Chapter 49 of the Statutes of Alberta, 1934.

The votes of the proprietary electors aforesaid thereon will be taken on the 25th day of March, 1935, between the hours of 10 o'clock in the forenoon and 7 o'clock in the afternoon at the Secretary-Treasurer's office in the Town of Blaimore.

DATED at Blaimore, in the Province of Alberta, this 5th day of March, 1935.

C. M. LARBALESTIER,
Returning Officer.

TAXPAYERS—ATTENTION!

Remember, if you vote on Monday next to pay mayor and councillors, as outlined in proposed By-Law, you need not hundreds of needless office at next general election—all after their pockets, instead of your best interest as ratepayers.

BLAIRMORE BOY BRAVERY REWARDED

Three members of the Scout movement from Southern Alberta are among those receiving recognition for acts of gallantry, according to awards made by the Chief Scout for Canada. Rover Scout John Anderl, of the Fourth Calgary (Elks Own) Rover crew, receives the silver cross for his endeavor to rescue the late Billy Devine from the icy waters of the Bow river last April. Troop Leader Harvey Wheatcroft, of Blaimore, receives the gilt cross for saving the life of Claire Bennett, after she had fallen into the Old Man river at Blaimore, while Scout Carl Allred has been awarded a certificate of merit for rescuing a boy from a lake near Raymond.

CHURCH WORKER IS HONORED AT PINCHER

PINCHER CREEK, March 18.—A memorable afternoon was spent on Friday, March 15, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Mercer, the occasion being the 80th birthday of Mrs. Mercer, who had invited the W.M.S. of United church to hold their monthly meeting at her home and thus to celebrate the event in that way. Mrs. Mercer is a life member of the Women's Missionary Society.

Mrs. Mercer was presented with a gift in token of the love and esteem in which she was held by the W.M.S., and an address was read by Mrs. J. F. Carlson, president.

Mr. and Mrs. Mercer came to Pincher Creek from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, in 1907. Their only son, Rev. W. S. Mercer, a former missionary in Labrador, lost his life in 1924 when travelling home from an appointment.

Rev. W. R. Seely, of Victoria, B. C., is a brother of Mrs. Mercer.

A GALLANT HOCKEY TEAM

The gallant effort of the Coleman Canadians, intermediate hockey champions of Alberta, against the senior champions, the Edmonton Superiors, reflects a lot of credit on the standard of the ice game as played in the Crows' Nest Pass.

The Canadians won one game and lost two against the crack Edmonton team, and prior to that succeeded in defeating the fast Drumheller Miners.

Coleman is not a large town, but they must take their hockey seriously. For two years they have produced champions and long before that they figured prominently in Alberta's hockey picture.

A small town is at a disadvantage against a city in producing a winning hockey team, but that handicap did not phase the Coleman hockey club. They met their hand-picked opponents and fought like wildcats.

So we say hats off to the Coleman Canadians and three cheers for a local hockey team who never let up—Bassano Mail.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Sir Frederick Banting, professor of medical research at the Toronto University, has been elected to the fellowship of the Royal Society of England, it was announced recently.

A government revenue return revealed millions in the United Kingdom numbered 452 in the fiscal year 1932-33, which is 82 fewer than the previous year.

Twenty-five men will be added to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Force in Manitoba, it is announced. Development in northern mining areas has opened new territory the present force cannot cover.

The Indian princes will accept the India constitution bill, it was reliably understood, following a conference between the influential Maharajah of Patiala and the Earl of Willingdon, viceroy of India.

Proclamations will be posted in every post office in Canada proclaiming May 6, jubilee day, a public holiday, it was announced. The king's proclamation has been sent out from secretary of state department.

The bank of Canada revealed it would issue a special $25 bill to commemorate the 25th anniversary of King George's accession to the throne. The government already has announced issue of a silver dollar.

The first Indian citizen to become a full-fledged lawyer in Canada has pleaded his first case in the superior court. The lawyer is Norman Saylor, a resident of the Indian reservation of Coughnawaga, a short distance from Montreal.

Maria Rasputin, daughter of the monk who exerted so powerful an influence on the Russian court until alarmed by outraged Imperialists, arrived at New York on the liner Bremen to join the Hagenback-Wallace circus as an animal trainer.

From 1921 to 1934, both years inclusive, the senate rejected exactly 50 bills sent to it with the approval of the House of Commons, a return tabled in the commons said. In the years 1931 and 1932 there were no rejections.

GARDENING

Gordon L. Smith

Dig-Dig-Dig
Cultivation is even more important than good soil or fertilizer. A constantly cultivated garden, with weed-much drought, for the simple reason that this stirring of the top soil prevents evaporation of moisture, and it also keeps down those robbers of plant food and water, weeds. The mechanical texture of heavy clay can be remedied by good cultivation. Cultivation is necessary especially during the early part of the season and more particularly after each shower. With some of the many hand, horse or tractor drawn garden cultivators on the market, this task is done quickly and without the old time backache.

Killing Out

Most damage to shrubbery, perennial flowers, roses, strawberry patches, fall wheat and other plants occurs during March or April. It is not the extreme cold of January and February, but the alternate freezing and thawing and the drying winds of early spring. On fine days things start to grow and the sap comes up from the roots, but at night frost returns and injury results. Crowns, and stems are burst, fruit buds frozen and grass and other perennial plants heaved out of the soil, their roots broken and exposed to the high drying winds. Protection in the form of snow, straw, leaves, or old vegetable refuse, is advisable at this time and is especially necessary in Southern exposures where the difference between midnight and noon temperatures is much more extreme than elsewhere. This protection must stay on until the dangerous period is passed and then removed gradually. If left on too long, however, growth is spindly and backward.

A Short Out

Good sized potatoes by early July can be produced from most parts of Canada, and this is the time the crop is really appreciated and worth some money. As soon as the ground works up nicely, a small planting may be risked. To further hurry things along, two or three weeks before planting, it is advisable to spread the seed potatoes out in some frost proof place where they will get as much sun as possible through the window. Soon, healthy, stout sprouts will appear and if planted carefully, so as to avoid breaking off, the crop will be through the ground in a day or two.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

JELLIED SALMON LOAF
1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 pint warm water
2 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup mayonnaise
2 cups flaked canned salmon
1 pint diced celery
Dissolve gelatin in warm water. Add vinegar and salt. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in mayonnaise, salmon, and celery. Turn into loaf pan. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Serves eight.

BAKED CUSTARD

1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk
2 1/2 cups hot water
3 eggs
Grating of nutmeg
Blend sweetened condensed milk with hot water and pour gradually over lightly beaten eggs. Add salt. Pour into a baking pan or custard cups. Bake in water bath (batter in a pan of hot water and bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) about forty minutes or until custard is set. The more stupid a man is, the less likely he is to be lonesome.

What's wrong with this Mustard, Mary? It's very poor stuff! Why John!

I thought I was getting a bargain - a big bag for 10c.

"It's no bargain at any price! I'll bet you would get more actual mustard in 10c worth of Keen's than you would out of any 10c substitute. The extra bulk is only flour, ground up hulls and colouring matter!"

"You're right! From this time on I'm going to stick to Keen's."

KEEN'S D.S.F. MUSTARD

Made from seed grown especially in the Fens of England. The shells or hulls are removed, all the time being in the inner part of the seed. A superior grinding makes the full flavour readily available in original tins for as little as 10c.

Aged Explorer Dies

Cape Grant In Franz-Josef Land Named After English Adventurer
Death ended the suffering recently at Devon, England, of the 84-year-old explorer and big game hunter, W. A. A. Grant, who a year ago entertained at a "mean dance" to celebrate his then momentarily expected end.

Grant, who almost daily since prayed he might die, and had asked doctors to put him painlessly to sleep and been refused, died quietly. He suffered heart trouble and a complication of ailments.

Grant publicly advocated the practice of euthanasia by physicians, saying "take my own case. I am no use to anybody. I should be only too happy to be given a double dose of sleeping draught."

Months ago Grant instructed his mourners to "wear your gayest clothes, don't come in the miserable garb of woe."

He left a last message in which he said: "Good health is the most important thing in the world, and a greater goal than the north pole. I tried to reach both and failed, although my grip missed by only a few inches each time."

Cape Grant in Franz-Josef Land named for Grant. He invited 300 friends throughout England to his champagne supper and all-night party in January, 1934, to celebrate his expected death and they all came, including a bevy of beautiful dancing girls. But after two hours of sleep Grant arose to say he felt fine.

Little Journeys in Science

HYDROCARBONS

(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

Scientists have found that the element carbon forms a larger number of chemical compounds than does any other element. At the present time over 300,000 compounds containing carbon have been discovered and every year new ones are being made in research laboratories. One of the reasons is due to the fact that carbon possesses the property of combining with certain elements in a number of different proportions, thus forming many different compounds with the same element. For example, carbon combines with the element hydrogen to produce nearly three hundred different compounds. These compounds containing only carbon and hydrogen are known as hydrocarbons.

Some hydrocarbons are gases, others are liquids, and still others are solids. Many of them are of great commercial importance. Certain hydrocarbons mixed in varying proportions make up such valuable materials as natural gas, gasoline, oil, lubricating oils, vaseline, and paraffin. Others serve as the raw material from which are made many of our most valuable drugs, dyes, and explosives.

Since there are so many hydrocarbons they are classified into groups or series. One of the most important of these series is the methane series. The members of this series are often known as the paraffin hydrocarbons, because ordinary paraffin is a mixture of the solid members of the series. Methane or marsh gas is the first member of the methane series of hydrocarbons. It is the chief constituent of natural gas and is also often formed in marshes by the decay of vegetable matter under water. Methane sometimes collects in mines, and when mixed with air is called "fire damp" by the miners because of its great inflammability. "Damp" is an old name for gas. If such a mixture is ignited a very disastrous explosion occurs.

GET RID OF THE CROWS

(By JACK MINER)

A great deal has been said about the crow diet, so let me add my testimony. Crows will eat almost anything. Yes, and all about everything. I have had crows eat pet crows will kill young crows about as quickly as you can feed them. If you have a young one and are anxious to raise him, feed custard, one hen's egg to half a cup of milk (no sugar) and watch him grow. I have fed them chopped up snakes and they always cawed for more snakes. Old crows will graze like a chicken. During the winter in this section of the country they will eat anything, but if they can find carrion that is what will tickle their palates most.

A great deal has been said about the crow diet, so let me add to the value of the crows; let me tell you this. A crow will do no more good in the farm than the least chicken that will lay a dollar's worth of eggs a month, and as for the grasshoppers the crow destroys, let me advise you not to expect our pestiferous birds of Canada to increase until the crows are decreased. Saying nothing about the crows, let me tell you that the crows are the cause of decrease of ducks more than the hunter or the gun. In Manitoba crows are so thick that I saw them nesting on the telephone wires. This star, naked fact is what caused me to study crows so much during the last five years. To reduce them by shooting campaigns has proven a failure. Thousands of men are trying that and, in spite of their many varieties of decoys, the crows are increasing. It is where my life's study of which they helped me out, for I know how and why and a little shooting will make them. At last the idea of attacking them presented itself to me and immediately I could see results. More study increased my faith until I finally had to try it out.

Since I knew I would have to bait, I at once called up Mr. Art Brown, one of our Kingsville fishermen, and he agreed to let me have a truck load or so of fish heads, scales and entrails, providing I got them out of the dock before the health officers put him off. Next, I secured a dead horse or so and was about all set for crow bait. Then I built the net on the same principle as I had built my net to catch and tag geese, but much smaller, the exact dimensions being six feet high, 12 feet wide and 70 feet long. I started building the net on a Thursday and finished it Saturday, doing practically all the work myself. And on the following Tuesday I caught 12 crows in one catch. While there may be dozens of other ways to control crows, yet I do know this method, if put into practice, would reduce the numbers to the same proportion as they were 50 years ago.

Now the only fault I have heard about my crow net is that it is altogether too expensive. This surely is a fault, but I can assure you that I know two winter men that built a crow net last winter and caught as high as 100 crows in one net, and cost them seven dollars. Of course this was built of junk material, such as poles from the woods and old fish netting, but it caught the crows just the same. To build a net as large as mine and to use new one-inch gas pipe as frame, and new two-inch mesh netting, would cost from 75 to 100 dollars. But it is not necessary to build the net as long as mine. A net 25 feet long, instead of 70 feet, would soon catch some crows.

The big thing to make the net most successful is the attention given to it. That is keeping it well baited. We bait for two or three days outside of the net and then, when we have a thousand or two crows coming, we draw the net under the net. Of course, we never allow anyone near except toward evening, when

One corner of Jack Miner's crow trap.

And now to the sportsmen and bird lovers of the continent, let me tell you this solid-down sentence: Do not expect our pestiferous birds of Canada to increase until the crows are decreased. Saying nothing about the crows, let me tell you that the crows are the cause of decrease of ducks more than the hunter or the gun. ## Hazing Was Expensive

Costs To University of Alberta Amounted To $50,051
Full costs of the Powlett "hazing" action against the University of Alberta amounted to $50,051, it was revealed in a detailed statement brought down in the legislature. The case followed confinement in mental hospitals of a student allegedly as the result of initiation brutality at the university.

Of the whole sum, the province is liable for a total of $48,701.

$1,350 was paid by the students medical service.

The amount payable to the Powlett family on passage of the estimates for the fiscal year 1935-36 is $28,228, made up of a judgment for $20,000 and costs of $8,228.

Another War Weapon

A German inventor, Herr Kellhaus, has offered the French government a new weapon which would deprive armed forces on land, at sea, and in the air of the power of sight. This weapon can project 1,000,000 castles of power, flashes, and capable of blinding anyone within its radius. Experiments were carried out on cattle half a mile distant. The beasts dropped senseless.

Old People Feel Young

Just because more years than you care to count have fled by on your life's calendar is no reason for feeling old. Age, after all, isn't a matter of years. It is a matter of health. A Plausible Story

Flca Was Responsible For Founding Of Overseas Empire

A flea was the granddaddy of the British Empire we are told by Dr. Thomas W. M. Cameron. From his history of parasitology at Macdonald College, Quebec, he tells a plausible story. The flea, he says, caused the black death in Europe. This ruled English agriculture and shifted it into sheep growing. This made wool and broadcloth England's staple products and led to the necessity of finding foreign markets. This led in turn to the founding of the overseas empire.

A scientist says that it is the lower part of the face and not the eyes that give away one's thoughts. In that case the cautious person should keep the lower part of his face closed as much as possible.

The milk industry may yet use aeroplanes to transport its product to city markets, predicts one agricultural economist.

THE TENDERFOOT

By GEORGE B. RODNEY

Author of "The Coronado Trail," "The Canyon Trail," Etc.

SYNOPSIS

"You've fallen heir to a half-share in plenty of trouble," the lawyer told Gerald Keene. "The Broken Spur has been systematically looting the ranch, and old Joe Carr, your partner, is drinking himself into ruin."

Dad Kane, desert rat and luckless prospector till now returns to tell Dustin and Spike Goddard, who had grubstaked him, of his discovery of a rich gold mine, and shows samples of the ore.

Dustin unexpectedly comes along while Stone and Edith are riding fence, and seeing them, stops and talks to Edith. He mentions their dispute could be settled by marrying him, and Edith refuses his proposal with remarks that make Dustin furious. He insults Stone, who promptly throws him into a pool of water.

Dustin learns that Gerald Keene has been sent for, and also that Duro Stone has seen the Broken Spur man rustling Carr's cattle. He sets out with Dad Kane to learn the location of his gold discovery. Dad Kane shows Dustin the mine.

They go back to camp, and Dustin shoots Kane. He fixes the shooting on Peyotl Gregg, a drug addict, who, stupor-stricken by the narcotic he had taken, did not know whether he was guilty or not. They bury Kane and then return to the Broken Spur ranch.

Meanwhile at the Hour Glass, Carr, Crewe and Stone speculate as to the meaning of entries in the notebook belonging to Dad Kane that Stone had found. Stone thinks of a possible solution, and, accompanied by Edith Carr, rides out to Red Water to test out his theory, which proves correct, and they find the rich gold deposit mentioned in the prospector's notebook. As they return to the ranch, they meet Dustin leaving the house, who, purposely, but unsuccessfully, tries to ride down Stone.

(Now Go On With The Story)

"We sure did. And on the way home, when Dustin tried to ride me down in the gobs of caballo, I up-set him and I went through his pockets. I found in his pocketbook a note for eleven thousand borrowed on the Hour-glass that he got from Mr. Pogram. Pogram sold the note to Dustin. That's how things stand."

"Uh-huh. And that means that if Dustin sees out the note, he'll have Joe's share of the Hour-glass. Joe can't meet that note right now, you know."

Then he told. Her eyes widened as

"What has happened?" she asked breathlessly.

"Not much. I told Jameson of the Seco paper about the ore and he will have Buxton give an expert opinion on it. The most important thing is that he's trying to find Kane."

"That can't help much," she said. "My one hope is in Dad's new partner, Mr. Keene. He may be able to help us if he will. Do you know what that beast Dustin said to Daddy?"

"She told him pretty much what Crewe had already said. 'Of course he wants to marry you,' he said curtly. 'Who in his senses wouldn't?' And at a sudden light in his eyes, she gave him a little and her laugh was a little strained. 'The fool... The utter fool to think that he can buy a girl like you...'

"What do you mean by that? Buy me?"

For one brief minute he could not decide whether to tell her or not... Then he told. Her eyes widened as she listened and when he stopped, she laid a hand gently on his arm.

"I'm glad you told me this," she said quickly. "I knew Daddy had borrowed some money but I didn't know from whom he got it..."

"Your father doesn't yet know that Dustin has the note," he said. "You'd better not tell him that yet. Wait till Kane gets here."

"I will be careful. I am glad to know the worst at least... I know at least where the thunder will come from."

"You will not even consider marrying that man Dustin, will you?"

"Would you drink poison if you were thirsty and if you knew it was poison?" she countered. "Good night! But her eyes told him unbelieveable things."

Crewe drew him aside after dinner the next day.

"Darn it all," he said. "Old Joe insists on gold in Seco with us. I tried to head him off. If he goes to the bank to get the money for the pay-roll, he may find out about that note. It's sure to come up. If he finds that Pogram sold his note to Dustin, he'll likely go on the prod."

Even Edith could not keep her father at home. During that drive he was cranky and querulous, and Stone sensed it.

"Go straight to the bank..." Carr's usually pleasant voice was a snarl.

Stone headed the car for the bank and stopped under a tree and Carr, with Crewe at his heels, strode into the bank. Peters, seeing them enter, ducked into his cage, and old Pogram, his face flushed to a dusky tone, divined like a rabbit for his private office. The next moment Joe Carr burst into the room. A sudden hush of raised voices swung out of the empty bank.

"Good Lord," muttered Stone. "The fat's probably in the fire by now. I wonder if I had better have told him about that note of his that Dustin holds."

He was dimly aware that the centre of the trouble had drifted into Pogram's private office. One or two men in the street, hearing the voices raised in anger, stopped, grinned significantly and went on up the street. It was no new thing in Seco to have a sudden war start in Pogram's office. Suddenly old Joe Carr shot out of the place. His very beard was curling with wrath and his eyes were blazing. He stumbled into the car and Crewe pitched in beside him.

"Take it easy, Joe," said in a low tone. "No need to let all Seco know your affairs. Take it easy, I tell you. Did you get the cash for the pay-roll?"

"Oh, that! Yes. I got that on a thirty-day note for fifteen per cent..." He laughed mischievously. "Do you know what that damned dog Pogram has done?" he said in a low, tense tone. "He held my note for eleven thousand secured by the half of the Hour-glass. Damned if he hasn't sold the note to Dustin. To Dustin, of all men! That's why that damned cur had the nerve to come to me to tell me he wants to marry Edith."

His face suffused with blood and his breath drew hard.

"I told Pogram I'd settle that note up on time."

"So I will, just as soon as I can make arrangements with Gerald Keene, my partner. Damn it all!

He'll buy the ranch from me if I say the word. How do I know? Hell, man! Isn't this Gerald Keene old Peter Vinton's kin? Wouldn't I have done the same for old Peter?"

And Frank Crewe, who knew that Joe was speaking the plain, unvarnished truth, said nothing. Carr snatched out his watch and glanced at it.

"We've got time to get a drink at the Silver Dollar before we meet the train," he snapped.

"We don't want anything to drink," expostulated Stone. "It's late now. The only reason you got into the bank was because it's open after hours."

Carr glared at him. For an employee to give him any back-talk was unheard of but... He reflected that this man Stone was a close friend of this Gerald Keene, and this man Keene was an unknown quantity.

"You go to hell, son," he said with heavy pleasantry. "You do as you're told. Drive to the Silver Dollar."

Stone glanced at Crewe and a quick nod reassured him. He stopped the car before the Silver Dollar and stayed in the car while Carr, with Crewe behind him, entered the place. A moment later a hand was laid on his arm and Jameson stopped by him.

"I got some news for you, Stone," he said briefly. "I took that ore to Dustin. He's about crazy over it. He's says it's been boiled champagne."

You know what an assayer means when he says that. He kept at me for an hour asking where it comes from and if there is much of it. I stalled him off. By the way how did that big sample get covered with blood?"

"Big sample..." Stone stared at him. "Blood?" "What are you talking about, Jameson?"

"I'm talking about that biggest sample that you brought in. You had it in your coat pocket. Did you have a fight?"

"No. I don't understand. I seem to remember that I did notice a dark stain on it when I picked it up..." By the way, I got that ore specimen from the place where the camp-fire was. That's probably where the blood came from. Have you succeeded in finding old man Kane yet?"

"No. No one has seen him for some time. They tell me he was being grub-staked by Dustin at the Broken Spur. That's what you said, too. I'm hazy about that old fool Peyotl Gregg may be able to give us some information about Kane. I saw him heading for the station a while ago. He's all hopped up, as usual. I reckon I'd better wait till he gets a clear head before I tackle him for straight talk."

Canada's Home Markets

Canada's home markets absorb approximately 85 per cent of Canadian farm produce according to Dominion government estimates. The home market has come to be almost the sole outlet for animal products, with the exception of bacon, and there are only three products—wheat, apples, and cheese—of which more than 50 per cent is exported.

Approximately $500,000,000 worth of old gold was brought to light in England's recent search for the precious metal.

Jubilee Services

Special Prayer Written For Occasion By Archbishop Of Canterbury

Church services throughout the British Empire will be marked by the singing of the national anthem during the celebration of the royal jubilee, it was announced in London. It was also announced a special prayer had been written for the occasion by the Archbishop of Canterbury and would be said in all English churches.

Text of prayer: "It is very meet, right, and our bounden duty, that we should give thanks unto Thee, O Lord, holy Father, almighty, everlasting God, for that Thou wast pleased, as on this day, to set Thy servant, our sovereign lord, King George, upon the throne of this realm; and hath profited him, in days of sickness and of health, throughout his reign of five and twenty years. For the example of unceasing service set by him and our gracious Queen Mary, for the loyalty borne to him by the great family of his subjects and in all parts of the world, we magnify Thy glorious name."

Bank Borrowers

Financial Institutions Were Heaviest Borrowers In 1934 From Chartered Banks

Financial institutions and operators were the heaviest borrowers from chartered banks of Canada, according to a statutory return as on Oct. 31, 1934, made public by Finance Minister E. N. Rhodes.

Total loans to financial houses, including brokers' and bond dealers, call loans, trust, mortgage and investment house loans, and loans to individuals against approved stocks and bond, totalled $275,897,430.

The mining industry was the lowest borrower, with $6,632,120. Total loans of all classifications on that date were $1,149,708,830.

Agriculture ran second in finance in the classification, borrowing $214,745,049, of which $64,229,743 went to farmers, cattle raisers and fruit growers and $150,515,305 to grain dealers and exporters and seed merchants.

Health Rules Drawn Up

To Lessen Danger Of Transporting Disease By Air

A set of rules designed to minimize the danger of disease propagation by aircraft moving from one country to another has been drawn up by the International Sanitary Convention for Air Navigation.

Great Britain is one of the 23 countries which have agreed to the rules, although British Empire lines are considered practically immune because of the repeated changes from one type of airplane to another en route.

The rules relate chiefly to the provision at Customs aerodromes of means for inspection, and, if necessary, for suggestion.

Had The Information

Lieut. Alfred Hernandez of the Chilean police was the most astonished man in London when he was there to study British police methods. He had long sought a rare book on occultism. In vain he looked for it in the United States and on the European continent. In desperation he asked a London "Bobby" in Regent street. Hernandez nearly collapsed. The "Bobby" told him the proper title, the title and the name of the publisher.

Say not, 'twas all in vain. The anguish and the darkness and the strife; Love thrown upon the waters comes again In quenched yearnings for a nobler life.

Did you ever hear of a man who had striven all his life faithfully and simply toward an object and in no measure obtained it? If a man constantly aspires, is he not elevated? Did ever a man try truth, heroism, sincerity of magnanimity, and find there was no advantage in them, or that it was a vain endeavor?

Do right, and God's recompense to you will be the power of doing more right. Give, and God's reward to you will be the spirit of giving more, a blessed spirit for it is the spirit of God himself, whose life is the blessedness of giving. ## WHAT WILL THE VOTERS SAY?

The Albertan has never—not at least in any normal times—been opposed to the indemnity of aldermen and such who give up their time and large parts of their business in the public service. But it is hard to be unsympathetic with the indignation of The Blairmore Enterprise, published at Blairmore, where their comic opera councillors, with Moscow as their spiritual home and Lenin as their idol, have decided to pay themselves two dollars a council meeting and three dollars additional to the mayor for every tour of inspection he makes of local public works.

Financially, Blairmore has been off again and on again for a number of years; or as The Enterprise puts it, "There isn't a town on the map that has been howling for more assistance from the governments." Therefore the appearance of a notice on the Blairmore post office notice board has caused more than a ripple by notifying the taxpayers that a by-law is to be voted on by proprietary ratepayers on March 25th to provide for the payment of the mayor and councillors at the rates quoted.

Blairmore is the town where the main thoroughfare is Tim Buck Avenue. Blairmore is the town where the school children were given a holiday on the great Bolshevik anniversary. Blairmore is the town whose councillors are drawn from that class of society who cry the loudest about the liberty of the press, the freedom of speech and other proletarian clichés, but who meet to all intents and purposes behind closed doors and give the public a handed-out account of what went on. Blairmore is the town from whence we hear more than from anywhere else about the oppression of the workers; it is also the town whose councillors have devised an ingenious means of adding to the oppression for their own profit.

One can imagine how devoted these councillors will be to their public duties at the new scale; what an enthusiastic inspector of public works the present or any future mayor will become at three dollars an inspection. But of course—What will the proprietary ratepayers have to say about it?—Calgary Albertan.

WILLING TO UNITE FORCES

A conference to discuss a new wage agreement between the coal operators and the United Mine Workers of America, District 18, convened in Calgary yesterday.

It is understood that the Mine Workers' Union of Canada will stand firmly behind the United Mine Workers of America in an effort to obtain a restoration of the 1932 wage scale. John Stokaluk, secretary of the Mine Workers' Union of Canada, stated that the special convention of his union had taken this stand recently. They also decided to fight for the restoration of the 1932 wage scale in Wayne and East Coulee. The Mine Workers' Union of Canada is willing to form a united front with the United Mine Workers of America in order to present a solid front to the coal operators in the Drumheller Valley. This united front would, of course, be for the specific purpose of strengthening the fight for the 1932 wage scale.

Requests of the United Mine Workers of America for a return to 1932 wage scales for miners working in Drumheller, Wayne and East Coulee district met strong opposition from coal operators as adjourned sessions of the conference were resumed on Tuesday.

A most successful tea and sale of home cooking was held in Columbus hall on Saturday afternoon last by the Girl Guides and Brownies. The purpose of the tea and sale was to raise funds in aid of the special jam-boree train to Calgary on Easter Monday, and we understand a sum of around $25 to $30 was realized.

The Trono Cup, the most coveted of Pass basketball trophies, is now in the possession of the Bellevue Ramblers. Pincher had possession of this trophy for more than a year before Blairmore succeeded in taking it away a few weeks ago. The Blairmore Cyclones, however, were not destined to have it very long, for the Bellevue team challenged, and as a result now have possession of it. The team in possession of the cup have the right to play all challenge games on the home floor.—Ex.

Two candidates for federal constituencies have been nominated by the Communist party of Canada. O. S. Doolan will contest a seat in the federal constituency of North Edmonton, while John Boychuk will contest the Vegreville constituency. In the provincial elections, Pat Lenihan has been nominated for Calgary, Jan Lakeman, for Edmonton, Mike Nowakowsky at Whitford, and Harvey Murphy at Rocky Mountain House. We understand there will be no English-speaking candidates for election in Russia this year, or for the next three generations.

The Blairmore mayor's civic holiday edict for today forms about the biggest kick of modern times. To give the outside world an idea of how and to what extent it was honored, it might be said that the following places of business were not in the least affected, nor should they be: hotels, garages, beer parlors, liquor stores, restaurants, hospitals, professional offices, gambling joints, pool halls, churches, sporting houses, study clubs, livery barns, and what not. A few grocery and dry goods stores closed up, fearing the assured boycott if they didn't. The school children were deprived of another day's profitable education. They were granted a holiday, and many of them were led along to listen to red "guff." Taken all round, the present mayor and council will some day be in a position to look backward with regret.

Alexander Emery, brother of George Emery, of Hillcrest, passed away at his home in Westville, Nova Scotia, on March the 4th, aged 77 years. The late Mr. Emery was born at West River. He was a rugged workman and possessed unusual strength. Brief portions of his life were spent in the Canadian West. Shortly after the big explosion at Hillcrest, he and his brother trekked their way west. From Lethbridge he went overseas with the 50th Battalion at the age of 38. He suffered a great deal from asthma while in the army and was a patient in an English hospital for some time. His wife, formerly Miss Mary Ann Clark, of Barney's River, predeceased him twelve years ago. Of fifteen sons and daughters born to this union, fourteen survive.

HILLCREST HAPPENINGS

James Marshall, after spending a week's vacation at his home here, returned to Calgary on Friday.

The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Sillocks on Thursday, leaving a baby boy.

Mrs. G. E. Cruickshank entertained friends at her home on Tuesday night.

Hillcrest mine, after being idle for a time, is working again and in full swing.

Mrs. F. Willets entertained her friends at whist at her home on Friday night. Whist honors went to Mrs. Martin, Mrs. H. O. Westrup and Mrs. D. Grant.

Dessie and Marie Thomas were surprised by a party held in their home on Friday evening, arranged by their little friends.

Mrs. E. Cranston, of Bellevue, sang a solo at the United church service here on Sunday evening.

Miss Louise Jones, of Calgary, is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. P. Salt.

BELLEVUE HAPPENINGS

Miss Allice Bogusich, who attended the Rebekah Assembly at Calgary as delegate from Ray of Hope Lodge, returned home on Sunday.

W. J. Cole, senior, former resident of Bellevue, now of Victoria, arrived on Tuesday afternoon on a visit to his son, W. J. Cole.

Mrs. W. Cousens entertained a number of friends at her home on Tuesday afternoon.

Henry Plasman met with a painful accident in the mine on Saturday afternoon, breaking his leg. He was removed to the local hospital, where he is resting as comfortably as can be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cousens and Mrs. C. W. Johnson, who had been attending the Rebekah and Oddfellows convention in Calgary, returned home on Saturday evening.

Bill Cole, of Michel, spent the week end in town.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cranston and Juanita left by car today for Medicine Hat, to which point he has been transferred as manager of the Royal Bank of Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Innis and family arrived today to take up residence here. Mr. Innis is Mr. Cranston's successor in the position of manager of the Royal Bank.

THE PARLIAMENTARY SHOW

(By J. S. Cowper)

At a dinner given by the Liberal members during the past week to the Press Gallery members, a silver tray bearing the facsimile signatures of his twelve supporters was presented to W. R. Howson, K.C., Liberal leader.

But the metallic presentation wasn't the best of it. In proposing the toast of the Liberal leader, Mr. Harry Ross, Liberal member for Calgary, made a confession. He said that when he entered the Legislature two years before, he was prejudiced against Mr. Howson. "I was a victim of the campaign of lying and slander that has been directed against Mr. Howson by his political opponents," he said, and went on to say that since entering the Legislature he had found his leader everything that a leader should be—courageous, courteous, considerate, far-seeing and unsparring of himself in the cause of his party and in the public service.

He predicted that Mr. Howson will be the next Premier of Alberta and will make a name for himself in provincial history for ability in office.

Mr. Howson led all critics, the way he tore into the government for having sold its soul to the money-lending interests of Canada, in discussing the budget brought down by Hon. Russell Lowe, in which a deficit of $700,000 is forecasted.

Pointing out that in the previous four years when surpluses totalling $237,641 had been forecasted, there had instead been deficits totalling $12,204,635, Mr. Howson expressed the hope that the new Provincial Treasurer would prove a better guesser than his predecessor, Premier Reid.

He charged the government with failing to protect the homes of the people; of opposing the fight for monetary reform; of opposing his efforts to have interest rates cut in two; of increasing the interest-bearing debt of the province till it now totals $149,462,654.33; of abusing its privilege to expend by special warrant a sum of over $25,000,000 without sanction of the Legislature; of increasing taxation and making no effort to reduce government expenditures during these depression days.

"At the conclusion of this ruthless indictment of the government, which took over two hours to deliver in detail, he moved a non-confidence amendment, which was supported by all parties in the House except the government, and the labor group, which always votes with the government.

One interesting thing the Budget did not reveal, but that Liberal questioning did, is that it cost the people of Alberta $50,051.45 for the "hazing" of young Powlett instead of the $28,000 at first announced.

Powlett's parents will get $20,000 for his support and $8000 law costs, but the low-costs of the government and the expenses of its expert medical witnesses brings the total bill up to $50,051.45.

Premier Reid has announced that on April 1, All Fools Day, the tax on gasoline will be increased from 6 cents a gallon to 7 cents a gallon.

When the Fuel Oil Tax Amendment Bill was brought into the Legislature by the Premier, authorizing the tax increase, L. A. Giroux, Liberal member for Grouard at once moved that the bill be given "the six months hoist." This would have prevented the tax increase, but the government members rallied to Premier Reid's support and defeated the Liberal attempt to keep the gas tax down.

With sufficient crude oil and naphtha being produced in the province to supply all our gasoline needs, the Agricultural Committee has been seeking to find out why Albertans have to import gasoline and pay eight cents a gallon more for it than the folks back east. It looked as if some of the "left-wingers" on the government side had the bit in their teeth and were going to pass a resolution calling on the government to take over all gasoline distribution in the province. Just as the resolution was about to be put, Hon. George How-

CARD OF THANKS

Jimmy Joyce wishes to thank the players of Blairmore, Bellevue and Coleman for taking part in the benefit game in his behalf; also the general public for the splendid support given, and the ticket sellers, who worked so well. He takes this opportunity through The Enterprise to express his grateful appreciation.

A statement submitted shows the following: Receipts—ticket sales $174.70, sweepstakes $21.00, total $195.70. Expenses—taxi for players $6.00, printing $7.75, meals for players $9.90, rink light $5.00, total $28.65. Balance received $167.05.—J. Joyce, Coleman.

ley rose at the critical moment and secured a delay, saying that he is considering a scheme to open four gas stations on main roads in the province in an attempt to lower the price of gasoline.

One personal note crept into the Budget debate when Omer St. Germain, Liberal M.L.A., for St. Albert, who crossed the floor during last session as a protest against the refusal of the government to reorganize the Cabinet, announced that after the close of last session of the Legislature the government took revenge upon his 25 year old son and dismissed him from the Lands and Mines Department, where he had given satisfactory service for nearly three years.

Young St. Germain is a young man with a classical and bilingual education, and his father complained that he was vouchsafed no answer when he wrote to the Civil Service Commissioner asking for a reason for his son's peremptory dismissal.

"I know if I was still sitting on the government benches my son would still be in the employ of the government," said the St. Albert member in denouncing the government for ignoring the needs of the youth of the province.

A Liberal member's stand, that strangely enough met with support from all sides of the Legislature, was that of Hugh J. Montgomery, Liberal member for Wetaskiwin, who questioned the Attorney-General to know if the government would make a declaration whether or not it stands behind the Criminal Code clause that those who "inform" on sweepstakes winners are entitled to claim the prize money as a reward for informing.

"What is your own attitude on the matter?" asked the Attorney-General cannily.

"I am in favor of winners being allowed to keep their money," said the Liberal member.

At once from all sides of the House came approval. George MacLachlan, U.F.A. member for Pembina, said it was "iniquitous" that an informer should be rewarded; Fred White, Labor leader, called for cheers for Premier Hephurn, of Ontario, when told that Mr. Hephurn refused to enforce the informers clause.

The free expression of opinion may lead to a request for the Federal authorities to supervise the administration of lotteries in Canada.

THOUSAND EX-RUSSIAN
NOBLES UNDER ARREST

Moscow, March 19.—More than 1,000 former members of the Russian nobility, generals, secret police officials and others, are being called to Siberia, and many of them will be tried for "activities against the government," it was announced today. Their activities, it was asserted, were "in behalf of foreign countries." All of them were rounded up in Leningrad.

IMPERIAL VETERANS' RE-UNION

Calgary, Alberta,
March 19th, 1935.

Editor The Enterprise.

Dear Sir: It is the intention of the Imperial Ex-servicemen in the Province of Alberta to hold a re-union and conference at Sylvan Lake some time in June of this year. The idea is to foster a better understanding of the Imperials and their needs; also to present concrete proposals to the Canadian and British governments, through the existing ex-servicemen's organization.

Recognizing the fact that the end of the war is now over sixteen years away, it becomes increasingly difficult to establish claims for hospitalization and pensions for those of our comrades who are in the unfortunate position of being unable to present definite proof of injury or disease. It is, therefore, the intention of this conference to devise ways and means whereby representations can be made to the aforesaid governments.

It may be of interest to the Imperials throughout this province to know that Brigadier-General A. Ross, President of the Canadian Legion, B. E.S.L., took up the question of Imperials resident in Canada with the B.E.S.L. whilst in convention in Australia and was assured by the League of their support in having the inequalities now in existence adjusted. As a matter of fact, General Ross is presenting a number of hard cases of Imperials to the Ex-servicemen's of the British Parliament.

Through Capt. Sir Ian Fraser, M.P. Further, he, General Ross, was successful to the extent that the British Empire Service League is requesting that a commission travel through the Dominion and take up the cases of those comrades who have any complaint as to the way their claims have been dealt with. With this in mind we will be able to help to quite an extent, and with the possibility of righting some of the wrongs. The whole question has been discussed with Canadian Legion officials in Alberta and with Colonel N. D. Dingle, the Dominion president of the Imperials.

If there are any Imperials in your district, pass the word on to them, and write the undersigned if it is your intention to attend; also, those in your district who anticipate attending, so that we may know exactly how many will be at Sylvan Lake.

The three main points for discussion will be Hospitalization, Pensions and Social Legislation. Other matters will be discussed as they are brought to our attention, so please advise us as to your intentions in this matter. Suggestions are welcomed.

Be sure and register early so that reduced fares and billeting arrangements can be made. The more that

Bright Stories about Wine
THE DRINK OF EMPERORS

Perhaps the most famous wine in the world is the Imperial Tokay of Hungary. One reads of it, generally in romantic books in which millions of money are tossed around and somebody is seen wearing the Russian Crown jewels. We doubt if any Canadian ever tasted it, or, having done so, could appreciate its peculiar, even unique qualities. The genuine stuff has rarely been offered for sale, although the name is bandied about, and maybe a certain flavor of the original remains. But, as we have said before, wines take their particular flavor from the districts in which the grapes are produced and the care given the vintage and the subsequent blendings.

But Imperial Tokay was grown in the royal vineyards, and nobody but the Emperor and his friends were ever permitted to drink a bottle of it. There is a story that one of the Rothschilds was advised by his doctor to drink some of the wine, and sent a humble request to Franz Josef that some might be forthcoming. The Emperor graciously responded by sending a bottle which the patient drank.

The inference is that he felt much better, because he sent a cheque for $3,700 to the town in which the Tokay vineyard lies, asking that it be used in the hospital. This is probably the most costly bottle of wine on record. But if a single bottle of it inspired a Rothschild to part with $3,700, it must also be the most magical and potent of all the fruits of the vine.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Murphy is arrived back from Montreal. Judging from rumors circulated here, Montreal must also be in the "canning" business.

Blairmore's canning programme is still in effect. A couple of years ago the electrician, police, secretary-treasurer and fire chief were canned. Now, in 1935, E. D. Battram is being succeeded by a new auditor. The time is not far distant when the council and school board will be canning themselves.

Significant Trends

Whether they believe in them or not, and irrespective of the fact whether they are ardent supporters or skeptical critics, people are deeply interested in the outcome of the various experiments now being tried throughout the world in matters of government, economics and finance. Quite apart from the fact whether or not they are convinced that the old order has, as some contend, broken down beyond all hope of repair and is now definitely and forever passing away, or, on the contrary, still adhere to the view that while changes are taking place, mistakes corrected, abuses eliminated, and improvements made, the old order is essentially sound and will prevail and achieve greater triumphs than ever before, people cannot be indifferent to present day events and the influence which such events are bound to have upon their lives and the times in which they live.

But, as has been noted and commented on many times, we are a credulous people. Of the American people it was said that they thought prohibition, termed a noble experiment, would end liquor and the saloon, and later that they thought the repeal of prohibition would end the bootlegger. Now, under the N.R.A., the United States has embarked upon another experiment—the business of making rules for business. Rules have been laid down in nearly 500 codes governing 500 industries, and the problem now is how these rules are to be forced. For it has to be recognized that there are many men in every trade who can be counted on to invent devices, as the bootlegger did, for chronic evasion.

As a matter of fact, a small army is now employed across the line in the task of ferreting out evasions and seeking to convict violators of the various N.R.A. codes and thus protect those who are honestly endeavoring to carry out the obligations imposed upon them and their businesses under the New Deal. But notwithstanding all these efforts, a well known authority makes the statement that it is quite safe to say that in the great majority of codes there is no enforcement because any attempt to enforce the rules would lead to abandonment of the code. For this reason there is a strong group in Washington which demands that an immense section of the rules be abandoned. In fact, the proposal is now seriously advanced that codes be applied only to those businesses which do an inter-State business and that they no longer be applied to the smaller concerns whose operations are more local and restricted to the State within which the business is located. This is a most significant development. It indicates that practical recognition of business has limitations. It indicates that practical recognition of business has limitations.

Turning to the Canadian picture, it would appear that much the same thought is entertained by people on this side of the line. The recent voting throughout the three prairie provinces on the proposal to establish a compulsory egg and poultry pool is one indication. The scheme was defeated in Manitoba by a three to one vote, and in neither Saskatchewan nor Alberta was the required two-thirds majority obtained, and in Saskatchewan less than one-half of those entitled to vote even took the trouble to return their ballots, thus indicating either opposition or indifference which amounted to opposition in view of the two-thirds vote requirement to carry.

As a result of this voting, it is announced from Ottawa that the compulsory feature will be dropped from all other proposals for the inauguration of schemes under the National Products Marketing Act, and that while efforts will be continued to further develop the idea of co-operation in support of prices and marketing methods, the plan of making any of these schemes compulsory upon an opposing minority has been definitely abandoned. This, too, is significant as indicating that the Canadian people are not ready to accept either the theories or plans of Communism on the one hand or Fascism on the other hand but that they are still firm believers in the ideals and methods of a free democracy.

But, while thus revealing a degree of confidence in the existing order, and a belief that necessary reforms can be brought about to correct the evils and remove the abuses which have developed like barnacles upon it, there can be little doubt but that the minds of the Canadian people are firmly fixed upon achieving those very necessary reforms and to do so without loss of time. That is to say, the violation of proper business ethics and methods will be brought to book, made to observe and live up to honest and fair-dealing methods, or forced out of business altogether. There is going to be a New Deal, but it will be invoked and enforced by a free democracy.

Canadian Aviation

Importance Of Canada As Link In World Air Highways

The importance of Canada as a main link in future world air highways was stressed by Hon. Grote Stirling, minister of national defence, at Montreal, in addressing the annual banquet which closed the two-day convention of the Canadian Flying Clubs Association.

With the future of Canadian aviation in mind, the government looked to the C.F.C.A. to take a leading part. The minister regretted his inability to promise the association further assistance at the present time due to the state of national finances.

He trusted the opportunity would soon be forthcoming when he could feel justified in putting forward proposals to the cabinet that would enable the government, if they accepted his advice, to provide the assistance the association hoped for.

"A distinct relationship exists between the department of national defence and the Flying Clubs Association," he said. The one-time expected clash of interests between the non-permanent flying forces and the flying clubs had never happened. It had been shown the clubs provided the very important task of training young men, wishing to gain their commissions in the military aviation service.

I could not hold anything, nor could I sew a button on. My arm would go dead. I was advised to try Kruschen, and inside of three weeks I found such a change. #### Advance Bookings Of Cunard White Star Line Indicate May Will Attend Silver Jubilee

Large numbers of Canadians are preparing to visit London for the King's Silver Jubilee celebrations commemorating the reign which began on May 6, 1910, and reaches its 25th anniversary on May 6 of this year, the date to be known as Silver Jubilee Day, according to advance bookings for the first Cunard White Star sailings from Montreal. These are on April 26 when the Albatross to Plymouth, Havre and London, and the Andania to Glasgow, Belfast and Liverpool, will open the St. Lawrence season for this line. These two sailings are sure to be popular because of the fact that tourist and third class passengers using these two sailings will still be able to take advantage of the special round-trip excursion rates of single fare and one-third which allow 10 days' stay in Europe. This rate is only good until April 30.

World's Fastest Camera

Photographs Flame Travelling At 24,000 Miles An Hour

One of the latest wonders of scientific research is a camera capable of photographing flame travelling at 24,000 miles an hour.

The fastest camera in the world, it has just been perfected in London at the Department of Chemical Technology at the Imperial College of Science by R. P. Fraser, an inventor, and his assistant, Dr. W. H. Wheeler. It is called the Fraser High Speed Camera No. 5. It costs about £1,000 to build.

By the new knowledge it will give of the behavior of explosion flames the camera may be the means of saving hundreds of lives.

WHAT DOES YOUR HANDWRITING REVEAL?

By LAWRENCE HIBBERT (Grapho-Analyst) (All Rights Reserved)

(Editor's Note: This week's article shows just how graphology can help in solving personal problems. There is a message of hope in it for you, if you are worrying over some personal difficulty. If it is merely a character delineation that you would like, you will find it of immense value. See the invitation in the following article.)

A letter I received a few days ago from a young lady living in Toronto has given me a good deal of pleasure, and, because it will show just how graphology can be an extremely helpful in solving personal problems, I am reproducing it, in part, this week. It is as follows:

"Dear Mr. Hibbert: I was reading your column in which you advised a certain Toronto girl concerning her fiancé."

"It was the first time I had ever read your column, as I read of this other girl's problem, I had the queerest feeling—for I might have thought I knew myself. It's funny, I decided right there and then never to see my own boy friend again."

"Knowing where my duty lay, this problem had been worrying me for a long time, but nothing could have given it home so much and have made me see so clearly that I must end this friendship, for my own good as well as his as his article did."

"As I write this, I feel so grateful to you, Mr. Hibbert, and I want to truly thank you from the bottom of my heart."

"But what kind of a person must I be? Before I met this boy, I thought I knew myself. It's funny, isn't it, how little we really know of ourselves?"

"This young lady, apart from proving the personal value of graphology made another point when she said 'I don't know how I was really doing of myself.' Not very long ago, a gentleman living in Winnipeg wrote to advise me to advise his own writing and that of his wife. He said that the domestic relations were rather strained and that his wife and himself were very unhappy as a result. He added that he believed that his wife was mainly at fault."

"He thought that, if I were to send the analysis of her character, he could then show it to her, and thus bring home a realization of what she was doing to wreck the marriage."

"Well, I analysed both writings, but instead of having to tell him that his wife was to blame, I had to suggest that he himself was more the guilty party. His own writing was so full of interference, and could not tolerate other people's views if they were varied with his own. In addition to this, he had quite a temper. I could well visualize the scenes in that home when he was laying down the law, and could easily understand the lack of harmony."

"These instances will show how graphology, by dissecting character, can help a good deal with the problems that worry so many people."

Have you any personal problem that is causing you a lot of concern and worry? Do you wish to know the truth about yourself, and your friends as revealed by your handwriting? Send specimens of the handwriting you wish to be analyzed, and enclose 10 cent coin for each. Send them in each case, and enclose with a 3c stamped addressed envelope to Lawrence Hibbert, care of the Newspaper Union, 178 McDermott Avenue, Winnipeg, Man. Letters are all confidential and replies will be forwarded as quickly as possible. Some delay is unavoidable owing to the large number of letters coming in.

Presentation To Scientist

Model Of Buffalo Is Gift Of Winnipeg To Prof. Huxley

A miniature bronze buffalo, modelled after the pair inside the parliament buildings in Winnipeg, was presented to Julian Huxley, distinguished British scientist, at Toronto, as a gift from the people of Winnipeg in appreciation of his lecture tour through the Canadian west.

The presentation was made at the conclusion of Professor Huxley's address. Dr. H. J. Cody, president of the University of Toronto, in a brief complimentary speech, recalled that in 1853, when a department of natural sciences was being formed at the Toronto University, an application for a professorship was received from Thomas Huxley, grandfather of the lecturer, and one of the greatest scientists of the 19th century.

The application was not accepted. But the reason for the rejection was not clear.

Wards Of The Government

Bill Introduced In Ontario Legislature For Protection Of Quintuplets

With the aim of making the Dionne quintuplets "special wards of His Majesty the King, as represented by the minister of public welfare of Ontario," Hon. David A. Croll, minister of welfare and municipal affairs, introduced a bill in the Ontario legislature regarding the famous babies of Callander, Ont.

By the bill, cabinet is empowered to appoint a board of guardians with authority over the finances, education and physical well-being of the children.

These "active guardians" will share authority with the father, Oliva Dionne, the "natural guardian," and Dr. Allan Roy Dufos, whether or not the physician is appointed as a guardian, Mr. Croll said.

Life Saving Medals

Officers Of Cunard White Star Line Receive Recognition

Herbert L. Satterlee, president of the Life Saving Benevolent Association of New York, pinned gold medals on Capt. J. G. P. Blais, R.D., R.N.R., and Lieut. Pollitt of the Cunard

White Star liner Ascania, for the part they played in rescuing the captain and eight of the crew of the S.S. Unworth in mid-Atlantic on Dec. 14. To the members of the boat crew which performed the rescue Mr. Satterlee presented $100 to each in cash in addition to a bronze medal. The presentation was made on the deck of the Ascania.

Moving Mountain Of Sand

Millions Of Tons Is Burying Forest In Australia

A moving mountain of sand at Cronulla, Australia, has buried a small forest as it slowly advances. Trees 30 to 40 feet high have disappeared beneath the millions of tons of sand. Meanwhile, the sea is eating into land on the ocean side of the "mountain," and every time there is a heavy storm part of a 200-acre government recreation area slips into the Pacific.

The caribou is the only far northern animal of this continent that regularly migrates, although wolves follow the caribou to some extent in winter.

China's Food Problems

Little Arable Land Not Now Being Cultivated

Although China's population has increased by 31 per cent. during the last 60 years, despite famines, floods and civil wars, the area of land actually being farmed never increased nor decreased during those six decades, according to findings given out by the national agriculture research bureau at Nanking.

The official report declares "too optimistic" the belief China's food shortage and over-population problems can be even partially solved by reclaiming land now not used, or by directing settlement to the open spaces of the great northwest. The survey confirms there is little arable land in China not now being cultivated, and classifies the waste places of the northwest as largely unfit for farming.

CENTRAL BANK GOLD RESERVE IS BELIEVED AMPLE

Ottawa.—The Bank of Canada has a gold reserve of $109,584,355 according to its first statement.

The statement was of assets and liabilities at the end of the first three days operations. The gold reserve is that turned over by the department of finance and chartered banks. It also has silver bullion and sterling and United States funds, bringing total reserves up to $107,965,593.

Gold backing is well above statutory requirements for note circulation and deposits from the Dominion and from chartered banks which total $254,222,415. The statute requires a ratio of 25 to 100 whereas the ratio shown was $247 to 100.

All issue of notes backed by this gold reserve in future will be in hands of the Central Bank. During the last year the department of finance issued about $50,000,000 of new money to cover construction operations. This will not be possible in future. If the government wishes to put new money into such operations it must borrow it on securities.

Bank of Canada total paid up capital is $4,951,640, leaving a balance unpaid of $8,360. Delinquent shareholders will be given a month to pay the balances.

The bank already has Dominion government securities of $149,859,890, turned over to it by the department of finance to cover Dominion notes in circulation and the bank starts off with an income from interest on these securities. There were $185,000,000 in Dominion notes out when the bank started operation.

All For Peace

Ramsay MacDonald Says White Paper Is A Peace Document

London.—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, tired and showing the ravages of the severe cold that has kept him abed the last week, returned to duty to authorize another denial of reports he is about to resign.

Nevertheless, rumors continued that the veteran leader's retirement is likely, with general reconstruction of the cabinet following.

The prime minister presided at the cabinet session and struck out vigorously in defence of the "white paper" which he wrote to accompany increased estimates for British defence in 1935.

An old fighter for the cause of peace, the prime minister characterized the "white paper" as a "peace document."

"Peace is written on its forehead; peace is its concluding thought; peace is its purpose throughout."

Despite his physician's orders, MacDonald has been working very hard of late, and this has had its effect. His health is far from that robustness which he hoped last year's Canadian vacation would bring.

May Disband Cadet Schools

Committee Of London County Council Will Recommend Step

London.—The education committee of the London county council—of which Labor is now in control—has decided to recommend the council should disband the cadet corps in the secondary schools. The governors of schools which receive aid from the L.C.C. are also to be invited to fall in line.

This step was taken after an intensive debate. The committee held the training of the cadet corps possessed very little educational advantage and was inconsistent with the spirit of peace.

Retiring From Railway Board

Ottawa.—A. D. Cartwright, secretary of the board of railway commissioners, is retiring at the end of this month after 31 years of service. Mr. Cartwright, son of the late Sir Richard Cartwright, minister of trade and commerce in the Laurier government, was the secretary of the original board headed by the late Hon. A. G. Blair. He has held office continuously since then.

Awarded Damages

Calgary.—A jury awarded Fred A. Campbell of Beltsville, $24,585 damages against the Royal Oil Refining Company of Calgary. Campbell was injured during an explosion at the Beltsville plant of the company and sued for $40,339 damages. He charged the company had been negligent.

Suspension Of Interest

Mayor McGeer Not Asking For Repudiation Of Vancouver's Obligation

Victoria.—"If the British Columbia government will give Vancouver the same kind of treatment as the province received from the national government, then we will be able to get by without default," Mayor G. G. McGeer told the private bills committee of the legislature.

The mayor was speaking to a proposal that Vancouver be given power to suspend for two years the payment of more than three per cent interest on its bonds.

If the province would give the city an $800,000 grant as proposed in the report of Thomas Bradshaw, Toronto financial expert, there would be no need to cut the interest, the mayor said.

He declared the city was not asking power to make a final repudiation of its obligation, but merely a suspension which would enable it to get straight within two years.

R. H. Pooley, Unionist, Esquimalt, suggested Mr. McGeer approach the government to pay the excess interest above three per cent and get by that way for one year. Then there would be no question about the city's credit in future borrowings.

"I'd be delighted, if they did that," said the mayor.

West Will Come Back

Says One Good Crop Will Wipe Away Deficits

Toronto.—Premier Gardiner of Saskatchewan told Dominion Mortgage and Investments Association members that arrangements will soon be completed between Saskatchewan and loan companies to provide farmers with seed for the spring.

The fertile soil has not blown away in the west, Mr. Gardiner contended. With one good crop deficits of the past five years could be wiped away and even to-day, if it were not for the mistakes committed in the past, the people could maintain themselves.

Premier Gardiner explained that his mission to the east was to complete negotiations begun last August, and which will, it is hoped, bring about the re-establishment of agriculture in the prairie provinces. He asked for the support of the east, Premier Gardiner mentioning good-will, "that is what we want in the west more than just money."

Study Production Tax

Alberta Government Plans New Ways To Obtain Revenue

Edmonton.—Before making its final report, the Alberta tax inquiry board will study a production tax for this province, said Premier R. G. Reid in the budget debate in the legislature.

In view of a number of matters which the government had referred to the board, its final report probably will not be available for some time, he said. An interim report will be submitted to the house shortly.

Referring to new wage or sales taxes proposed or already adopted in other western provinces, the premier said that any suggested levies here would undoubtedly be given careful study by the tax inquiry board.

With statistics, the premier denied the Liberal leader's charge that provincial taxation was causing the confiscation of homes. He showed where provincial revenue from the supplementary revenue tax, for example, had materially decreased since 1921.

Trousers For Unemployed

Ottawa.—A contract for 100,000 yards of drill has been awarded by the government to Dominion Textiles, Limited, of Montreal, according to the House of Commons. The material is to be made into trousers for men employed in government relief camps. Cost of the material, less sales tax, will be $22,790.

Ontario Premier Threatened

Toronto.—Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn said he has received a threat to blow up his home and buildings in Elgin county before July 12. The premier said the letter was written in long-hand and mailed from St. Thomas. He turned the letter over to General Victor Williams, commissioner of provincial police.

Supporting Fund

Ottawa.—The Marvin, Beck, branch of the Canadian Legion advised the management of the King George V. Silver Jubilee Cancer fund that it was organizing a subscription list of every member of the legion in its zone with the object of raising money for the fund. 2096

Want To Celebrate

Unemployed Of Edmonton Want Cash Donation For Jubilee Festivities

Edmonton.—Edmonton's unemployed want to celebrate the king's jubilee, but they must have the aid of the city's relief department to fulfill their desire.

A petition has been presented to the city council urging the unemployed be given a special gift of 50 cents for every relief recipient "to enable us to celebrate the king's jubilee."

The relief recipients were given $1 each as a Christmas gift and it was in cash. No action has been taken on the jubilee request.

Heavy Fines For Speeding

British Law Will Be Strictly Enforced In London

London.—The unwary motorist who exceeds 30 miles an hour in London's built-up areas is due for an unpleasant surprise.

Plainclothes policemen and police women in cars will be used to trap speeding drivers. The patrols will cruise at 30 miles an hour. Anyone who overtakes the police car will be signalled to halt by a resounding gong. The penalty for a first offence will not exceed £20 (about $97) and for a second offence £50 (about $243).

TARIFF BOARD IS TO INVESTIGATE MOTOR CAR COSTS

Ottawa.—Finance Minister E. N. Rhodes formally authorized Chairman George H. Sedgewick of the tariff board to undertake "at your earliest convenience" an investigation into the automotive industry in Canada, "particularly as regards the bearing thereon of customs and excise duties or taxes."

The reference is a broad one, embracing "the matter of the relationship of the production of parts to the larger industry, and of both to the general consuming interest."

The action follows a decision reached by the government over a month ago when motor car manufacturers in Canada were advised by Mr. Rhodes that the disparity between the price of cars to the consumer in Canada in contrast with the price of similar cars in the United States was "giving the government grave concern." He then stated the government contemplated taking the necessary steps to remedy the situation.

Stating that in his opinion such an investigation was "in the public interest," Mr. Rhodes instructed the chairman that the inquiry "should have regard for the principles and operations of drawbacks for domestic consumption, as well as for such matters as content and costs of distribution; and it should endeavor to appraise the various factors which determine the prices at which motor vehicles shall be sold at retail in Canada."

FRENCH SCIENTISTS SEE UNUSUAL DEMONSTRATION

Our picture shows Monsieur Lumiere demonstrating what is claimed to be the first practical system of stereoscopic film projection at the Academie des Sciences, Paris. The system is not new and M. Lumiere does not claim in any sense to have invented it. Hitherto, the glasses or screen used, have not contained exactly complementary colors, with the result that the eye quickly tired. M. Lumiere claims to have perfected the glasses so that it is possible to watch stereoscopic films with no strain on the eye.

VANCOUVER'S MAYOR

Mayor G. G. McGeer of Vancouver, who recently appeared before the private bills committee of the British Columbia Legislature to discuss a bill to amend Vancouver's city charter.

Will Allow No Laxity

Penal Sections Of Reform Measure To Be Enforced

Ottawa.—Rigid enforcement of the penal sections of the government's reform measures was promised by Hon. Wesley Gordon, minister of labor. He was addressing a delegation of the Confederation of Catholic Laborers of Canada.

"If there is to be any laxity on behalf of persons or firms which break these laws, the effectiveness of these measures would not only be imperilled, they would be destroyed," he said.

The unemployment insurance, day-of-rest and the eight-hour day bills all have penal provisions. The question was raised when the delegation asked that companies which break labor laws lose their charters after two offences and that dismissal of a workman because he has joined a union should be considered a misdemeanor. The minister said the complaint applied more to provincial than Dominion laws, but the reform statutes now before parliament would be vigorously enforced.

Great War Financing

Canada Borrowed $1,447,138,558 For War Purposes

Ottawa.—From August, 1914, until the demobilization of the Canadian overseas military forces was completed, this country borrowed $1,447,138,558 for war purposes, Finance Minister E. N. Rhodes told H. E. Spencer (U.F.A., Battle River), in the House of Commons. All of this amount was borrowed in Canada.

Answering a further question the minister said $1,339,526,528 of bonds were issued free of taxation.

Good Prices For Steers

Calgary.—George Ross, a southern Alberta rancher, has demonstrated the feasibility of feeding steers in the irrigation district of Vauxhall. Ross has completed sale of 500 finished steers to a Chicago packing company at a reported price of $25,000. Brought in from the range, the steers were "finished" in feeding lots in the Vauxhall district.

Committee To Investigate

Will Suggest Means To Deal With Unemployment Among Veterans

Ottawa.—Unemployment in the ranks of ex-service men will be the subject of investigation by a committee which will recommend to Hon. D. M. Sutherland, minister of pensions and national health, the best means of dealing with this problem. An order-in-council authorizing the inquiry was passed following representations made by the Canadian Legion.

The committee will consist of Hon. Justice J. D. Hyndman, Ottawa; Col. C. B. Price, Montreal, and W. B. Woods, Toronto.

The committee will carry out an investigation into existing facilities for provision of employment for ex-service men, for their care and maintenance while unemployed, and report with such recommendations as may be deemed advisable.

Ottawa.—"The appointment of a committee to investigate the unemployment situation among ex-service men is highly gratifying, resulting as it does from representations made by the Canadian Legion for such action, said Brigadier General Alex. Ross, C.M.G., Dominion president of the legion here.

Demand For Cars

Production In Automobile Plants Shows Increase

Windsor, Ont.—Heavy increases in employment and production, ranging as high as 77 per cent, in the former and 100 per cent, in the latter for January and February of this year are reported by automotive companies in the Border Cities.

In some instances demand has been so heavy it has been impossible to build up cars for stock purposes. The peak of production is not expected to be reached until another month or so.

SEE FINAL ACT OF THE DRAMA OF GREEK REVOLT

Athens.—Eleutherios Venizelos, leader of the short-lived Greek revolution, died of a heart attack, after a long illness, at his home in the island where he had spent the last years of his life.

Meanwhile the cruiser Averoff, "flagship" of the rebellion which dropped Venizelos, his Anglo-Greek wife and other rebels at the Italian island of Cassos, arrived at Salamis to command the government's request of the insurgent fleet.

While the loyalist army continued "mopping up" after routing land rebels in Macedonia, courts martial started grinding away at the grist the 12-day revolt left for them.

Those rebel soldiers who did not flee to neighboring countries probably will be given amnesty, it was indicated, but their officers and those soldiers who joined the movement as volunteers were expected to face military courts.

The Odyssey of the fallen Venizelos, "old fox" of Greek politics and many times the nation's premier, read like the final act of an ancient Greek drama.

Leaving behind him his native Crete, which reports said he meant to declare independent if the revolt failed, the 71-year-old chieftain fled first to the microscopic island of Cassos. Thence Italy moved him to the larger Rhodes, 75 miles away, because it was feared angered Greeks, who constitute the majority of the residents of Cassos, might attack him.

The government took into custody Stylianos Gonatas, president of the senate and premier of the revolutionary government in 1922.

Following the example of the rebel military leader, General Panayotopoulos, Colonel Flegkas, chief of staff of the seventh revolutionary division, committed suicide to escape capture.

The belief that a mass execution would mark the final chapter of the uprising was widely held in Athens, where it was recalled that a similar fate befell the leaders of Greece's last revolution.

The capital buzzed with talk of the possibility of a monarchist restoration. Crowds cheered and thundered "also"—Grecian exclamation of acclaim—when pictures of the late King Constantine appeared on the streets and were circulated from hand to hand.

It was understood the government will ask Bulgaria for the extradition of General Kamasarov and the other rebels who fled across the frontier.

BRITISH NAVAL ESTIMATES ARE FINALLY PASSED

London.—The British House of Commons voted its approval, 158 to 49, of naval estimates for 1935 amounting to £60,050,000 ($291,843,000 at par), an increase of £3,500,000 over last year.

The vote came after Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, first lord of the admiralty, expressed hope that principle of the Washington treaty in some manner could be perpetuated in order that navies of the great powers may continue regulated by international agreement.

Sir Bolton stressed Britain's desire to see the size of battleships, cruisers, and their respective guns reduced by joint agreement.

He announced preliminary conversations with other naval powers to prepare the ground for "the approaching naval conference" had seen of good service, establishing friendliest contact with all delegations.

He emphasized that the United Kingdom could not reduce the number of its naval vessels any further, but was anxious to get a joint international agreement for reduction of the sizes of vessels. Sir Bolton said he thought the maximum for all future cruisers might be fixed at 7,000 tons and their guns limited to 6-inch.

The first lord assailed the Labor party for its "policy" to make the electorate think this government is a war mongering government, saying this is "the most senseless, groundless and base charge ever made by a political party against its country."

New Series Of Stamps

Six Stamps To Commemorate Silver Jubilee Of King George

Ottawa.—Postmaster-General Arthur Sauve announced his department would commemorate the silver jubilee of King George's accession by issuing a special series of six stamps bearing new designs and portraits.

The denominations and subjects of the issue: One cent, green with a portrait of Princess Elizabeth; two cents, brown with a portrait of the Duke of York; three cents, red with portraits of the king and queen; five cents, blue with a portrait of the Prince of Wales; 10 cents, green with a view of Windsor Castle; 13 cents, blue with a view of the royal yacht "Britannia."

One-, two- and five-cent denominations will be regular size stamps. The three-, 10- and 13-cent values will be double size. Date of issue will be announced later.

Trains Collide

Eleven Persons Injured When Freight And Passenger Trains Meet In Blinding Snow Storm

Caradoc, Ont.—Eleven persons were injured here when a Canadian Pacific Railway passenger train and a freight train collided during a blinding snow storm.

Most seriously hurt was Engineer Malcolm D. Macgregor, of London, Ont., in charge of the westbound passenger train, who incurred back injuries in a leap from the locomotive cab when he saw a collision was inevitable.

The other ten suffered shock, cuts, in two cases minor fractures, but were able to continue to their destinations on the next train.

For Service In North

Winnipeg.—One of the largest aeroplanes in Canada, the "Eldorado Radium Silver Express" landed here March 12, piloted by W. L. Brintnell, of Mackenzie Air Service. The Belanca air cruiser, capable of carrying 2½ tons of freight, left for Edmonton for service in the north.

Sir John Simon To Visit Berlin

London.—Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon and Lord Privy Seal Eden will leave for their visit to the German government at Berlin on March 24, it was announced. They will return here March 27 after conversations on European security with Chancellor Adolf Hitler.

Foretell Archives

Jerusalem.—Discovery of porcelain archives 2,500 to 2,800 years old, apparently belonging to the leading prince of Judah, was revealed here. The find was regarded of vast importance in connection with the Bible stories during the pre-Solomon era.

NEW ARRIS FILM*DELIGHTFUL COMEDY

"The Last Gentleman," George Arliss' second film under his new starring contract with 20th Century Pictures, opens tomorrow night at Cole's theatre is the most delightful and certainly the most unusual comedy the talkies have produced.

A far cry from "The House of Rothschild," the star's first production under the Joseph M. Schenck-Darryl F. Zanuck banner, this whimsical comedy is, by virtue of its very contrast, a fitting successor to the powerful dramatic vehicle.

As Cabot Barr, a wealthy, irascible, family-proud old New Englander, who calls together his relatives in the vague hope of finding a worthy heir, Arliss offers another of his rich and perfect portraits.

Immediately the members of the family are assembled under his roof, he proceeds to insult and humiliate them and accuse them of being after his money, for the mere flimsy glaze of seeing them squirm.

Among those present are Edna May Oliver, as his sniffling but likable daughter, and Frank Albertson as Allan, her adopted son; Janet Beecher as the widow of Cabot's late son and Charlotte (Alice in Wonderland) Henry as her young daughter, Marjorie; and Donald Meek as Judi, Cabot's only living son, a thorough-going scoundrel who has been secretly recording his father's eccentricities in the hope of proving him insane and inheriting his estate.

In the course of the story, Cabot develops a genuine affection for young Marjorie (although he hates females) and plans to promote a romance between her and Allan, and make them his heirs.

The youngsters squabble like the kids they are until Grandpa puts into practice his elaborate scheme to throw them together and make them fall in love.

The shock of his son's treachery in bringing an alienist to examine him breaks old Cabot's heart and health beyond repair; but the film ends on a cheery note and one which offers something altogether unique and re-handsome, entirely new, low-priced, streamlined six, 93 h.p. motor, 118 inch wheelbase.

The Airstream Chrysler Six

—for 1935

"We'll build," said Chrysler engineers, "another line of cars that will give many of Airflow's advantages at a much lower price"—the answer Chrysler Airstream—see how they've done it.

To the eye a striking family resemblance—in the radiator, hood lines, sweeping windshield, tapering rear... and the rear seat has been moved forward... engine forward, too, to get more scientific distribution of weight—and a ride beyond any at any price except the Airflow.

Hidden values, too. Surging power such as Chrysler knows so well how to provide. Marvelous new diamond-hard pistons. Use... or abuse... or high speed have little effect on them. High compression engines... valve seat inserts that greatly reduce valve grinding. Chrysler pioneered them! A ride in this 1935 wonder car will soon acquaint and convince you that the Airstream Chrysler is just about the lowest priced quality car in the world.
